Rome 24,25,26 november 2022

The activity was a three-day training which involved two or three staff members from each partner for a total of 12 people.

The first part of the activity concerned the definitive drafting of the research program “Features of multifamily groups in mental health”: definition of activity times and processing of results.

The second part of the activity was dedicated to drafting the initial draft of the handbook on the distinctive characteristics of the multifamily psychoanalysis group (MFPG): organization of the index, definition of theoretical contents, bibliography.

The final product will be discussed and approved in three subsequent online international meetings.
